

NASSAU CLASS SKIFF

Unique in a Sea of Sameness

Striking in form and painstakingly crafted, your Caribiana sea skiff will enhance your daily experiences in ways you truly come to appreciate. Much of a Caribiana Skiffs' appeal begins with the long, graceful lines that start low at the transom then sweep forward into a high, proud, distinctive bow. This upward sweep also unveils the classic lapstrake hull designs of old Caribbean fishing skiffs that inspired this watercraft. These classic lines coupled with high-grade teak finishes are just a few of the attributes that make a Caribiana's skiff the most eye catching boat on any body of water!

complete the exquisite detailing. Our highly skilled craftsmen use only the highest grade teak to hand craft the floorboards, rub rail, bow breastplate and other wood features when added to a Nassau Skiff.

Handcrafted Teak

Part of the appeal and iconic beauty of a Caribiana skiff is our extensive use of hand-selected, solid genuine teak. Chosen for its beauty and consistent grain, teak is not just durable under harsh sea and weather conditions, but it's also forgiving on bare feet, naturally resists slipping, and easy to care for. Teak requires very little maintenance. Teak contains natural oils that prevent it from rotting, even when left unfinished and exposed to the weather. These natural oils and regular cleanings will preserve your teak far into the future.

Finished or Hi-Gloss teak can reduce wood care even more and expose the various beautiful shades of red, gold, brown and tan as well as the natural movement and grain of the timber.

We also offer finished mahogany for our skiffs owners that want even richer colors of reds and browns. Mahogany also cost less than teak!

Call Caribiana for more details about wood and finish options or visit our website to see the difference in our oiled and Hi-gloss finishes.
